Reorganizationists Make Final Plea On Eve of Election; Record Vote Expected at Polls April 27 and 28

Fesler Will Address Special Assembly at 10:45 Today

RHINEHART TO CLOSE CAMPAIGN THURSDAY

Junior Class to Hold Open Forum for Candidates Wednesday

Thursday and Friday, April 27, 28, will climax the hectic weeks of intensive campaigning which took place between opponents and proponents of the Student Council reorganization plan, as ballot boxes are placed in the middle of the campus and at the medical and law schools to accommodate what is expected to be a record vote in Student Council elections.

The Reorganizationist Party begins its final campaigning for immediate, complete reorganization when C. Manley Fesler addresses a special assembly in Corcoran 10 at 10:45 a. m. today. Walter Rhinehart, Junior College candidate for Student Council and reorganization leader, winds up the reorganization program on election day, Thursday, April 27, with an address before a special assembly in Corcoran 10 at 10:45 a. m.

John Barbers, chairman of the Junior class, has arranged for a class meeting to be held tomorrow at 8 p. m. in Corcoran 10.

Drama Club Gives Short Plays Tonight

Group Presents Varied Program at Western Presbyterian Church at 8:30

Three one-act plays are to be presented tonight at 8:30 o'clock by the Drama Appreciation Club in the auditorium of the Western Presbyterian Church. Sponsored by Mrs. Vinnie G. Barrows, director of women's personnel guidance, and under the direction of Mrs. George Romney, who is well known in local circles, the plays are given to afford the members, who have hitherto concerned themselves with criticism, practical experience in producing plays.

The cast of "The Passing of Chow-Chow," a light comedy, consists of: Mr. Standish, played by Robert Donevan; Mrs. Standish, Elizabeth Bequette; the lawyer, Theodore Tiller.

In "Out of the Darkness," a serious drama, Eleanor Crowley has the part of Lizzie; Harry Humphrey, that of Nathan; Arth, Walter Pick; and Bessie, Mary Cox.

"Will o' the Wisp" is the third play, and deals with the supernatural. The parts are as follows: The poet's wife, Jean Burford; the white-faced girl, Esther Talley; the country woman, Blanche Widome; and the maid, Frances Hand.

Carrie Roper Fulton is stage manager for the productions. There will be no admission charge.

Dean Van Vleck Is Next Radio Speaker

Dean William C. Van Vleck, professor of law, will give the fifth of a series of radio talks by faculty members here over WMAL, Thursday, April 27, at 7:45 p. m. His subject will be "Some Movements Toward Law Reform."

Twelve more professors and instructors will be heard, one each Thursday at the same time, before the series ends July 27.

The remainder of the schedule is as follows:

May 4, Dr. Fred A. Moss, "Auditing Your Emotional Account;" May 11, Dr. W. C. Johnstone, "The League of Nations and the Far East."

May 18, Dr. Vincent DuVigneaud, "Insulin and Diabetes;" May 25, Prof. Douglas Bement, "The Short Story and Other Literary Pains;" June 1, Dr. Charles E. Hill, "The Rise of J. Ramsey McDonald;" June 15, Prof. Willard Yeager, "Congressional Oratory;" June 22, Dr. William C. French, "A Geologist's Paradise;" July 6, Dr. Robert Briggs, "The Nitrogen Problem;" July 13, Dudley Willard, "A Problem in Human Misery;" July 20, Dr. Colin Mackall, "Forum Alchemist to Chemist;" July 27, Dr. A. Curtis Wilgus, "Our Pan-American Neighbors."

Handbook Editor

WALTER RHINEHART

Walter Rhinehart, associate editor of The Hatchet, was elected editor of the 1933 Handbook at a recent meeting of The Hatchet board of editors. John Busick, Harriett Atwell, Evelyn Eller, Otto Schoenfelder, Margaret Leibler, and Ludwig Caminita were named associate editors.

Rhinehart succeeds himself as editor, having worked in the same capacity last year. He has been a member of The Hatchet staff for two years, and now serves as associate editor.

He is publicity manager of the Cherry Tree, and worked in a similar capacity for Troubadours two years ago. John Busick served on The Hatchet staff for two years, first as sports writer, and now as departmental editor.

Harriett Atwell is women's sports editor. She is associate editor of the Cherry Tree and is active in University activities in general. Evelyn Eller serves another term as associate editor of the Handbook.

Margaret Leibler has worked on The Hatchet for three years serving as a reporter, department editor and now as a member of the staff of senior reporters. She, too, served as associate editor of the Handbook last year.

Otto Schoenfelder and Ludwig Caminita, both new to the Handbook staff, complete the editorial board. Schoenfelder is a junior reporter on The Hatchet staff. Ludwig is a senior reporter with The Hatchet, and is publicity manager of the Junior Prom.

Bitter Fights Waged For Council Seats

Major Candidates for Coveted Posts Affiliate With Reorganizationists

By LUDWIG CAMINITA

They're off! The Political Sweepstakes, with Student Council seats for the winners, has started and it's every man for himself, with the field coming into the homestretch April 27-28. Take your pick. Junior College leads the schools with 14 entries in the field; the Medical School and Pharmacy each have a lone entry.

The reorganizationists are looking forward to a landslide and a record vote at the polls. Every major candidate, with the exception of the Law School entries, stands for immediate complete reorganization. The barristers are predominately Organizationists, however, with the proviso that the Law School will in some way be included in the new system.

Probably the greatest battles for seats will be seen in the Junior College fracas, as there are only three places to be filled and six times that many candidates. Betty Coon and Loren Murphy stand for re-election. James Haley, the other incumbent, failed to present himself.

Rhinehart Likely Winner
Outstanding in the Junior College ranks is Walter Rhinehart, associate editor of The Hatchet and leader for reorganization. Rhinehart looks like a sure winner. With Coon tagging after him, in opinions at least, it apparently seems that she will be assured her seat in the 1933-34 governing body. However, victory will be none too easy for her as there is a dark-horse combination in Ralph Given, new member of the Cherry Tree Board of Editors, and Margie Schorn, of Kappa Kappa Gamma. The latter two are boosting one another.

The Schorn-Given combine is strengthened by the fact that the Kappas have had no council seats in their possession for many a moon; they

Juniors Proclaim May 13 As "Dean' Wilbur Day"

Danzansky Issues Edict; Sparks Announces $2 Prom At Shoreham Hotel

Floyd Sparks and his Junior Prom committee swung into action over the Easter holidays with the following announcements:

1. Saturday, May 13, will officially be known as "Dean' Wilbur Day."

2. The Junior Prom will be held in the west ballroom of the Shoreham Hotel the night of May 13.

3. Candidates for First Lady of the University will be presented to Cue and Curtains audiences on May 12 at the Wardman Park Hotel Theater.

4. Prom invitations will be $2, drag or stag.

With President Danzansky's proclamation announcing Provost William Allen Wilbur as the guest of honor at the Junior Prom Weekend, it was definitely announced that he will officially open "Dean' Wilbur Day," to be held at the Sixteenth and Kennedy streets section of Rock Creek Park, by throwing the first ball in the O. D. K.-Faculty baseball game.

At the prom, which will be given at the Shoreham Hotel, Dean Wilbur will

Concert of Colonial Glee Clubs Scheduled

Joint Program and Dance Set for Willard Hotel Tuesday, May 2

With their sixth annual spring concert and dance only one week away, the George Washington University Glee Clubs are rehearsing intensively in order to make this climactic event of their activities even more successful than in previous years.

Both the concert and dance, which have the enthusiastic backing of the University's General Alumni Association, will be held in the main ballroom of the Willard Hotel on Tuesday evening, May 2. The concert, which will begin promptly at 8:30 o'clock, will consist of about four groups of songs by the men's glee club, another group by the women's club, and two groups by the combined clubs. A prominent out-of-town artist is expected to be a feature of the program. Leon Brusloff's well known orchestra will play for the dance which will follow the concert.

Tickets have been reduced this year to $1. They may be secured from the bursar's office at the Willard Hotel, or from individual Glee Club members.

Four of the many invitations for public appearances, which continued to come to the clubs, were filled last week, one by the men's club alone, and three by the combined clubs.

Consistent Progress Features Rehearsals

Tickets for "Romantic Young Lady" Go on Sale at Bursar's Office Wednesday

Two points of primary importance are featured in this week's news of Cue and Curtains' latest production, "The Romantic Young Lady," to be presented at Wardman Park Theatre on May 10, 11, and 12. The first is the welcome information to drama's adherents that exchange tickets will be placed on sale at the bursar's office Wednesday morning; second, the progress made by the cast during the Easter holiday.

Pasteboards are selling for $1.00 and $1.75. The colored duets will be exchanged at a date to be announced later for the orthodox reserved seat tickets. Only 100 seats at a dollar are being reserved for the three performances, the balance selling for the lesser price.

The cost is steadily forging ahead, perfecting and polishing lines and parts. During the Easter holiday the various "punch" scenes and the dialogues received the most attention. For the next three weeks these detached and perfected lines and actions will be coordinated into what is hoped to be a synchronized performance.

Royal Gunnison, who has the leading role of De Cordoba or "The Apparition," has been doing the most accom-

1933 Cherry Tree Ready For Distribution Monday

Limited Number of Copies, at $4 Each, Available to Students Who Failed to Subscribe to College Annual; On Sale in Building T

Distribution of the 1933 Cherry Tree will begin Monday morning at 8:30 in the publications office of the University, Building T, 2016 H street northwest. All holders of paid subscription receipts will have them honored at this time.

Because of the attractiveness of this issue and also because of the fact that so many students were unable to subscribe before, because of the banking holiday, a limited number of extra copies were ordered to be sold to the first to apply for them. The cost of the book is $4.

By beginning distribution of the Cherry Tree next Monday, the staff of the annual lives up to earlier promises of publishing the Cherry Tree on time despite a complete reorganization of its contents and the addition of so many new features.

The annual, handsomely bound in an extra heavy black and silver cover, is divided into five major sections, each of which is headed by a modernistic four-color process illustration, typifying that particular section.

The opening section, beautifully designed throughout, in four colors, features eight of the most unusual views ever photographed of the University. These photographs, reproduced in art green ink, alone make this book a memento that every student of the University should possess. Another highlight of this section, is the two-page title spread, done in four colors, with a most unusual rendering of the Houdon Statue which has now become a fixed part of the University.

The feature section, containing the march of events, the first attempt in any university to render pictorially, with accompanying descriptions, a true story of the major events and interesting happenings around the University during the past year, is expected to prove most popular.

Another feature of this section will be the announcement of the winners of the Cherry Tree beauty contest, which was judged earlier in the year by Janet Gaynor and Ronald Colman. The three women and the three men thus selected, will be honored with a full page portrait of themselves in this section. Pictures of the girls entered in this contest have been on display in the photographic case in Corcoran Hall during the past few weeks.

TEAM IN FINE SHAPE

Noonan or Weingartner Likely to Draw Initial Hurling Assignment

Here at last! Night baseball! Everything reaches Washington eventually, and Thursday night the long awaited arclight sport makes its local debut. The Colonial nine engages Delaware's outfit in a sure-fire thriller.

With the good graces of the weather man, Coach Morris' public, and Otto Zahn on the first sack, the stage is set for a real first-night "premiere." The turnstiles at Griffith Stadium are scheduled to register five figures once again for a collegiate assemblage. Last Saturday afternoon the Buff and Blue "diamonders" went through a strenuous practice session, in all probability the performers in that exhibit will crash into the opening lineup. The slab assignment is still a matter of conjecture.

The pre-game activities start this afternoon when at 4:30 Ed Wilson, activity chairman of the freshman class, opens an all-University pep rally. Meeting in the quadrangle, the student body will hear short talks by President Marvin, Provost Wilbur, Prof. Kayser, Prof. Pixlee, and Coach Morris.

Every effort is being made to have the baseball team present in a body. The University band and the cheer leaders will participate and lead the group in cheers and songs. The rally was planned by a Frosh class committee under the supervision of President Fred Bullard.

At 7 o'clock in the evening, opening night festivities will commence. Almas Temple of the Shrine will present two uniformed bodies of fifty-five men each. The Arab Patrol, under Captain Jesse Porter, will perform intricate and fan-

Alpha Eta Epsilon Initiates C. Brown

Claudy, Gay, Sherrier, Lusby, Wessels and Romney Also Inducted

Alpha Eta Epsilon, national honorary dramatics fraternity, initiated Constantine Connor Brown, director of dramatics at George Washington University, into honorary membership on Wednesday, April 12, at the Lafayette Hotel.

In presenting the fraternity pin to Miss Brown, Daniel C. Beattie, president of Alpha Eta Epsilon, said: "We are honoring Miss Brown because she has upheld the ideals for which Alpha Eta Epsilon stands for, and because we feel sure that as a member she will cooperate heartily with us along the lines laid down by the fraternity in keeping up the high standard demanded at George Washington of this organization. In the short time Miss Brown has been at this University she has done wonderful work in dramatics, and we believe that in the future she will continue to do so."

The following other persons, well known for their dramatic work at the University, were also initiated into membership: William Claudy, Karl Gay, Elizabeth Sherrier, Newell Lusby, Catherine Wessels, and Kenneth Romney.

"Dean" Wilbur Day Feeling Is Not Limited to Juniors

The dedication of the first annual field day of the junior class to Provost William Allen Wilbur cannot fail to meet with enthusiasm. When one stops to think, it even seems odd that such a plan is a surprise, and that no one has thought of it before.

Enthusiasm is bound to vary between students in direct proportion to their importance in a project; but toward "Dean" Wilbur there is a fine feeling that is common to us all. The "Dean" personifies high ideals in education and in the world as a whole; in directing his whole life's effort toward the carrying out of these ideals, he has become George Washington's own "grand old man."

The junior class field day will afford us the opportunity for a sincere expression of our regard for the "Dean."

The Hatchet Proposes That Student Council Heads Be Upper Class Undergraduates

According to the proposed plan for complete reorganization of the Student Council, the president of that group was to be elected by popular vote of students in all departments of the University. It is further suggested at this time that the president and vice-president of the proposed Student Council be upper classmen elected from the undergraduate body in order to assure that these officials be students who are entirely familiar with the problems and needs of students in the University.

There Is Plenty to Do Here; and Much Credit Awaits the Group That Does It

There are any number of things to be done at George Washington by an active, interested, and capable Student Council. For years there has been a crying need for general student assemblies. We need the establishment of some sort of a code which would lead to the development of initiative in scholarship by the students. We need, in short, a general program which will acquaint our student body with one another and with the problems and incentives which The George Washington University presents.

The Hatchet believes that leadership, such as is needed for a program of this kind may be secured through the proposed scheme of reorganization of the Student Council. If the candidates pledged to complete reorganization are elected, such a program is within reach; if the present apathetic system is continued there is little assurance of any forward-looking policy.

Students are urged to attend the pep rally election for those candidates who are pledged to the platform of complete reorganization of the Student Council.

A Record Crowd Thursday Afternoon Will Help Win That First Ball Game

Thursday night will see the beginning of the first George Washington University varsity baseball game in several years. The game will be played in Griffith Stadium and will begin promptly at 8 p. m. At 4:30 this afternoon will be staged a pep rally and series of short talks, stunts and music in the college yard. At this time President Marvin, Coach Pixlee, and others will be present to urge student attendance at these baseball games.

At the games themselves, there will be many and varied added attractions. Thursday night the Almas Temple Shriners will present their drill teams and drum corps which are perhaps the best-trained in this section of the country. Later games will have boxing tournaments, baseball carnivals, band concerts and contests.

Students are urged to attend the pep rally this afternoon and acquaint themselves more fully with the programs to be offered in connection with various baseball games. The time is 4:30 and the place—the college yard.

Excellent Printing Work Striking In 1933 Cherry Tree

Monday the 1933 Cherry Tree will be issued and the business manager and his staff are wont to declare in true Barnum fashion "The greatest year-book ever produced—beauty queen contest, march of events, etc. etc." We have heard that before and discount its worth as a real criticism.

Whether or not it is the finest book ever produced, it is better than last year's. Its two principal features, the beauty contest and events section, are enhanced by very excellent printing. The purchasers will not notice it; they will only realize that there is a pleasing perfection about this year's book that was lacking before.

Much the same can be said of the art work. It is unspectacular; it has no great theme; but its harmony and originality at once command admiration. Largely because of the high class work in the mechanical production, the book is the finest Cherry Tree ever produced.

CHIPS

Hey, folks! Happy Easter—well, anyway it was a convenient one. That rain saved most of us the job of bluffing everyone into believing that the new outfit was new and not last year's with a clean and press.

There shall be showers of blessing even in depression. Mr. Merry, please note that you have not filled up the hole in back of Corcoran Hall which our editor asked you to do in an editorial two weeks ago—was da matter, Charlie?

The brilliant success of the freshman hop last week placed Sam Walker, the frosh's most self-advertised man, in the same category as the immortal Dieffenbach—one new dance chairman, please.

Ladies and gentlemen, this is ye olde election week and everyone is all steamed up, but old Rollo says (with apologies to Ben Bernie—he's good, too), if you want the besta, the besta you can getta, just vote for good old complete reorganization. Marjorie Sehorn, Kappa brain trust head, explained that it was just matches she was after when the view of lace and so and so met the eye of the passerby out of a second floor window on Building L—That's o. k., Marg; but what Rollo wants to know is why you asked him if he saw the matches.

Nell (bass voice) Griffith is growing with everything else these days. She sprouted a couple of wisdom teeth over the Easter holidays.

It is confidentially rumored that Sock Kennedy is going to take a real sock in the form of a marital merger with Popularity Molyneux—Doves and cuckoos—it's good for the socks anyway.

Frosh Kemper spent $1.50 on a phone call Saturday night to check up on Betty Crane when his dad dragged him out of town unexpectedly—nuts and more nuts.

Skinker comes into the open again since she has been doing a tumble over Herzog, the new campus Vanderbilt.

With apologies to "Frou Frou," there will be more slips in evidence at the Panel Prom than has been noticed at other dances lately—this will be due to the Dille petticoat which, although it's supposed to be sort of dirty, should be large enough to interest everybody. Vat you tink—Oh, well, keep it to yourself.

Dille told the teacher that little Rollo broke into the Chi Oh Ho rooms and read all the copy, but Rollo gave the teacher an apple and now it's all o. k.—What some people will do for a big red apple is shocking.

Virginia Jones dreamed that Mike (Hazel) Smith was her sugar daddy—Turn over on the other side, taffy head; they tell me that's good for bad dreams.

The high point of the D. A. R. ball game when a little girl sighted Social Houn Sawtelle in one of them summer tuxedos and asked with a smirk why they only had one major domo.

It seems like old Trimble answered Rollo's call for some one to give a little egress to Ingress Chittum's willow blonde-topped cousin.

We see the Engineers are presenting pansy pots and Dean Lapham makes plum preserves—Who says we're not getting to be a nation of softies?

Madame Bell dragged out his absinthie roil for the campus to eye at the El Delt. "Prom" Friday.

Coming back to that topic of intended marital combines beside Slicker-Maxwell, give the Niess-Beach, Jacobs-Jackson, Hawkins-Weitzel, Atwell-Blackstone, Fesler-Remon, and (Hitler) Johnston—"Alabama" endeavors a big hand for having more spring than sense, but after all, every one is losing weight these days.

We note with glee the opening of the baseball season, but it's a silent prayer on our lips that Atwell won't induce the junior class to let Boy Friend Blackstone unload any more of those stale chrysanthemums to embarrass the captain of the visiting team.

Now, Mr. Merry, if you will fill that hole in back of Corcoran (yes, the same hole we talked about earlier in this column), Rollo will help this "help grow" campaign of yours, but we really do think that it should include the editors of The Petticoat as well as the grass if the copy in the little adhesive tape box is a general indication of what we can expect in the paper—So help me, ladies and gentlemen, it's awful—Ittyka Akhle has the umpire and Vivian's all swollen about it.

If you haven't anything to do Thursday and Friday, ladies and gentlemen, go and vote, but please don't strain yourself.

Au revoir, a little cheer, and pleasant dreams.

Ole Complete Reorganization Rollo.

coran 10. He has invited all candidates for office to attend the meeting and will give each one an opportunity to speak two minutes on their platform. Rhinehart, Fesler, Joseph Danzansky, and Bourke Floyd have already signified their intentions of appearing at this time.

Last Thursday morning James Haley, present Junior College representative, presented arguments against complete, immediate reorganization. This is the first time that any Student Council member has availed himself of the opportunity to defend the Council in its stand on the matter of reorganization.

"The action of the council in passing the Billings Bill has provided for reorganization of an experimental nature," said Haley. "The Billings Bill has all the advantages, and none of the disadvantages and discriminations as outlined in the April 4 edition of The Hatchet." Haley continued with the contention that The Hatchet proposal was too radical a change which did not allow for any remedy; whereas the Billings Bill permitted the council to decide for itself whether it could best operate with a great or lesser number of activities representatives.

"While the Student Council is cognizant of the ineffectiveness of a council composed of members not interested in activities, it nevertheless contends that having a council composed entirely of activities representatives would not mean that it would function any more satisfactorily than the present one," continued Haley, "and certainly in the case of The George Washington University would not be fair and just." He demanded recognition, especially of the Law and Medical Schools, whom he said are just as interested in the campus as undergraduates, even though they fail to participate in various activities.

The Liberal Club held an open forum on Student Council reorganization Thursday, April 13. Though the Liberal Club specifically invited President Elton Billings, and Representative Jack Goode, of the Student Council, to discuss the question with C. Manley Fesler and Rhinehart, they failed to make an appearance. As a result Fesler and Rhinehart explained The Hatchet plan of reorganization, without opposition. The Liberal Club passed the following resolution:

"Resolved, That this body express itself as being in favor of Student Council reorganization, immediate and complete, as outlined in the April 4 issue of The Hatchet, and was stated by Chairman Sparks. Invitations will be available for Juniors only, on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, April 27, 28 and 29. They will be available to other students beginning Monday, May 1, and can be procured at the Junior Prom office, basement of Building N.

Though invitations will be given to any student in the University, Sparks emphasized the fact that because there will be only a limited number available, Juniors will be given an opportunity to procure them before other University students. At the end of the three days, invitations will be open to anyone in the University.

In cooperation with Karl Gay, business manager of Cue and Curtain, it was decided to present candidates for the First Lady of the University to the audience of "The Romantic Young Lady," Friday night, May 12. Arrangements will be made, if possible, to have Dean Wilbur present each candidate, one of whom will be coronated by him at the Junior Prom the next evening.

Joseph Danzansky announced that as final judges of the First Lady contest, Floyd Sparks will act as chairman, with Karl Gay and John Madigan as associate judges. Voting for the First Lady of the University will take place Thursday and Friday, May 11 and 12, in booths which are to be placed on the campus.

Proclamation
Whereas, "Dean" William Allen Wilbur is an honorary member of the class of '34, and

Whereas, He has held that position since our freshman year, and

Whereas, He encouraged our first taste of class organization during our freshman year, and

Whereas, He has maintained his interest in activities of our class since our orientation at the University, and Whereas, His excellent work on behalf of the University in general and our class in particular merits our sincere appreciation.

THEREFORE, Be it resolved, That the Junior Class set aside the afternoon of Saturday, May 13, in his honor and Dedicate its field day, to be known as "Dean" Wilbur Day, as its gesture of gratitude for the interest he has displayed on behalf of our class, and The George Washington University.

I hereby declare the above resolution to be official and binding upon the class of '34.
(Signed) JOSEPH DANZANSKY, Junior Class President.

Colonial Nine Opens Season With Delaware Thursday Night

SPORTaxe

By JOHN BUSICK

Spring sports discontinue preliminary drills and get down to real business this week with baseball, tennis, and golf in the varsity field and a detailed program of intramurals which includes baseball, tennis, golf, and horseshoes going full swing. . . . No reason for these boys with inclinations toward rotundness not keepin' the ol' waist line down. . . .

In first night sessions under the arcs, fly-chasers experienced some difficulty in patrolling the pasture, but they'll be o. k. after a few more of Morris' "fly by night" drills. . . . I'm just as weary of writing this as you are of reading it, but the pitching selection for the opener on Thursday night is still pretty much of a problem. . . . Hoggy Albert and Art Zahn, of local prep and high school fame, are the only fixtures as yet in the starting line-up. . . .

That array of special attractions arranged by P. A. Jack Eapey for the ball games sure runs the gamut for variety. . . . Just about everything possible in the way of unique sport and show programs. . . . $1 per would have been considered most reasonable in the spring of '29. . . . But now the entire season's admittance costs only twice that amount. . . . Another example of—I'm tired of saying "depression," but that's just what I mean. . . .

At last they've decided to stick to "Heinie" for Weingartner's handle. . . . His given name was one of the things that give sports chroniclers a headache. . . . If Cal Griffith could hit as well as he handles himself behind the plate, there'd be one of the classiest local receivers in Morris' line-up. . . . Ed Baer had that ailing appendix removed about a month ago. . . . And we counted him out for the season. . . . As did everyone else except Ed himself. . . . Bus Morris is witnessing a struggle to the end between Baer and John Laing for that second base post. . . .

Harry Kleiman surrounded himself with several ex-college ring stars in getting his men ready for the Squared Circle-Y boxing show. . . . Spring grid practice couldn't end too soon for the baseball mentors, Morris, Farrington, and Britts, who got Bomba, Trilling, and Leemans from Pixlee, Walsh, etc. . . . Siverd and Brooke playing Nos. 2 and 3 on the Hopkins net squad looked much better to us than Palitz, at No. 1, who had NO backhand strokes at all. Too bad that Randy Robinson was forced to default his match. . . . Although dropping a close first set, he looked good for a victory when he went down with that bad knee. . . .

First Arc Light Contest Attracts Public Curiosity

Otto Zahn to Take First Base for Colonials in "Premier"

COLONIAL AND SHRINE BANDS WILL ENTERTAIN
Carnival, Boxing Match, 6th Marine Band Future Features

By ROBERT P. HERZOG

When the Colonial's open against Delaware in Griffith Stadium Thursday night an extraordinary spectacle is promised. Beside the curiosity which has been aroused by the novelty of night baseball, a well-drilled team is ready to put the skids on the northern visitors. . . .

"Otto" Zahn, captain and star guard of the court team, has the first base assignment all tied up in knots. Bill Albert, handling a tough assignment at short stop, is coming through with flying colors in the pre-season workouts, and stands ready to produce in any emergency. Johnny Fenlon does justice to any man's ball club at the hot corner, and with Eddie Baer and Johnny Laing vieing for the keystone sack, an infield of rare dimensions is ready for action. Versatility and finesse combine to make this infield "ready." . . .

Calvin Griffith, of the ball park Griffiths is practically in the catcher's box already. Some prep school experience at Staunton Military Academy has worked him into a smooth athletic machine; he can handle Bill Noonan, Jimmy Howell, Heinie Weingartner, Tufty Leemans, and Bill Helvestine with equal ease. . . .

Don Bomba, "Doty" Trilling, and Fred Mulvey are nosing Forrest Burgess, Marshall Melpoder, George Irving, and Johnny Madden out of the outfield berths. Big Fred Mulvey and George Irving, former Western High star, are contesting the center garden position; on their right Joe Trilling, Emerson Institute product, and Johnny Madden, former St. John's performer, are cutting throats. Melpoder and Bomba are competing for the right-field start. . . .

Pre-season dopesters consider Bill Noonan and Heinie Weingartner as contestants for the Delaware pitching call, and it is entirely possible that both will see action. Leemans, Howell, and Helvestine are considered likely possibilities for relief roles. . . .

Delaware invades with a record of two wins and three defeats. Having triumphed over Bridgewater and Virginia Medical on their southern trip, they returned to take defeats from Elon, Hampden Sidney, and Randolph-Macon. Games scheduled with Trenton Osteopathy and Wake Forest were cancelled because of inclement weather. . . .

The probable starting line-ups are:
George Washington Delaware
Fenlon, 2b. Hudson, ss.
Albert, ss. Thompson, 1b.
Baer, 3b. O'Connell, rf.
Zahn, 1b. E. Thompson, c.
Bomba, rf. Minus, lf.
Mulvey, cf. Barrow, 3b.
Trilling, lf. Ford, cf.
Griffith, c. Pitus, 2b.

Colonials' Rifle Coach Has Brilliant Record as Marksman and Instructor

Frank Parsons Is National Individual Free Style Champion and Has Been a Member of Three Championship Colonial Teams

National individual free style small bore champion 1933; member of the world's champion United States rifle team, 1930; member of three national championship Colonial teams—such is a brief record of Frank Parsons, Jr., who since 1928 has guided the destinies of the high-powered Colonial riflemen. . . .

Coach Parsons, who is enthusiastic in his praise of this year's team, said: "All my life—even when I was a very small boy—I have been interested in rifle shooting." . . .

Parsons' first experience as a Colonial rifleman came in 1925. In this year the Colonials won second honors in the small bore division and second honors in the large bore division, Navy taking first place. . . .

In 1926 Parsons helped the Colonials win the small bore championship and second place in the large bore division. In 1927 and '28, Parsons being captain the latter year, the Colonial shooters carried everything before them to take first place in both large and small bore classes. . . .

Upon Parsons' graduation in 1928 he was promptly employed by his alma mater as a coach. Largely due to his efforts, George Washington's rifle team has been ranked among the first ten teams of the country for the last five years and won the civilian title in 1931. . . .

Coach Parsons proved his ability as a marksman again during January of this year, when he won the national individual free rifle championship for 22-calibre rifles. This competition included the best small bore shooters of the country. Parsons scored 578 of a possible 600; his nearest opponent scored 574. . . .

Perhaps the greatest honor to come to Parsons was his participation in the International Matches held in Belgium in 1930. Parsons was one of seven members selected from the best service and civilian riflemen in the country to represent the United States. At these matches Parsons and his six teammates made history by walking away with the championship of the world. . . .

Hopkins Net Team Beats Colonials, 7-2

Buff and Blue Wins Two Singles Matches and Drops Three Doubles

Journeying over to Baltimore for the season's opener, April 15, the Colonial tennis team was downed by a fast-playing, experienced Johns Hopkins net team, 7-2. . . .

The number 1 singles contest, which pitted Raphael Sherkey against Larry Palitz, host captain, was easily the outstanding match of the day. The lanky G. W. ace garnered the first set 10-8 and was leading in the second 5-2, when his opponent suddenly rallied, pulled up to 4-5, and deuced the count in the tenth game. Fighting back brilliantly, Sherkey bagged the necessary points for the game and match in a fast exchange of shots. . . .

Summary.
R. Sherkey (G. W.) defeated Palitz, 10-8, 6-4; Siverd (Hopkins) defeated L. Sherkey, 6-1, 6-4; Brooke (Hopkins) defeated Pierce, 7-5, 7-5; Hartman (Hopkins) defeated Robinson 6-4, default; Moore (G. W.) defeated Dietz, 7-5, 1-6, 6-2; Landensky (Hopkins) defeated Smith, 7-9, 7-5, 6-4; Palitz and Brooke (Hopkins) defeated R. Sherkey and L. Sherkey, 6-2, 6-3; Siverd and Hartman (Hopkins) defeated Pierce and Murayama, 6-4, 6-2; Goldberg and Rains (Hopkins) defeated Pierce and Murayama, 7-5, 6-4. . . .

Sompayrac Steals Home to Win in Tenth; Monroe Pitches Two-hit Game

Features of last week's games were the Phi Sigma Kappa victories over Sigma Nu, 5-0, and T. U. O. 15-5, to gain the lead in League A, and the S. P. E. overtime win from the Deltas, 9-8. . . .

Phi Sig's second win was a poorly-played game with T. U. O., Parker and Monroe sharing the dubious pitching honors for the winners. . . .

Outbitt by 12 to 8, Sig Ep made a last inning comeback in its overtime game with the Deltas, to score its second win of the series. With the winning run on base, Sig Ep lost a chance in the sixth inning when Keller picked P. Sompayrac off of third, and Gough converted a screaming liner into a double play. . . .

Hectic Extra Inning
Fenlon's hit and an error garnered a Delt run in the extra inning which loomed large as the game proceeded. In the last half, McCarver walked W. Sompayrac, who was forced out on Link's fielder's choice, and then a second walk placed P. Sompayrac on base. Link then scored to tie on Alfaro's error after Weingartner's out. With two out, P. Sompayrac then surprised all by stealing home with the needed winning run. . . .

In a closely contested game, S. A. E. won from Kappa Sig 3-2. Acacia, kept in a tie for the League . . .

Varsity Eleven Held Scoreless by Grads

Hotly Contested Game Marks Climax of Rigid Spring Training

In a hotly contested game which marked the climax of the local spring training grind, the varsity squad was held to a scoreless tie by the seniors in a fray at the Central High School field Saturday, April 15. . . .

As a result of a challenge issued by Capt. Lee Carlin earlier in the spring, the varsity squad met a hand-picked team composed of graduating seniors and most of the regulars of last fall. When the clouds of this gigantic struggle had disappeared from the horizon, neither team had shown any marked superiority, and the tilt ended as it had begun—nothing all. . . .

Although the game as a whole was rather slow, the crowd of some 300 ardent fans had several real thrills when "Nig" McCarver and Capt. Lee Carlin finally unlimbered and displayed some of their wares. These boys gave the future a bright outlook when they started on their gallops. Line play was rather slow, but Doose and Walsh gave evidence of knowing what the game was about with their hard play on both offense and defense. . . .

"Soapy" Fenlon, former Colonial star, received a big hand from the audience when he went in toward the last of the game. Fenlon was handicapped by a recent illness, but his bullet passes reminded fans of seasons gone by, and gave them a last peep at the brilliant little back. . . .

The varsity almost scored in the closing moments of the game when Leeman tossed a long pass to Hal Prather, who was finally dragged down on the five-yard line. Two line plays, which netted about three yards, ended the ball game with the "old apple" on the seniors' 2-yard line. . . .

The fray gave fans high hopes for one of the best teams in Colonial history for next fall. . . .

Colonials Lambast St. John's Netmen

Colonial netmen decisively defeated the St. John's of Annapolis tennis team, 8-1, in a lovely set to yesterday on the St. John's courts. . . .

Outstanding among the George Washington players in the singles were Robinson, Pierce, and Murayama, and in the doubles, the Moore-Robinson and Pierce-Murayama combinations. However, good weather and fast courts were responsible for good tennis all around. . . .

Winners of the individual matches were as follows:
Singles—L. Sherkey, G. W., over Woodman, 6-4, 7-5; R. Sherkey, G. W., over Hoffmeister, 6-3, 6-3; Robinson, G. W., over White, 6-2, 6-4; Pierce, G. W., over Cantor, 6-4, 6-3; Murayama, G. W., over Kent, 6-1, 6-2; Pickering, St. John's, over Bennett, 7-5, 6-1.
Doubles—Sherkey-Sherkey, G. W., over Pickering-Hoffmeister, 6-3, 6-1; Moore-Robinson, G. W., over Woodman-Whiting, 6-3, 7-5; Pierce-Murayama, G. W., over Kent-Satterthwaite, 6-1, 6-2. . . .

Colonial Golf Four Defeats Temple U. In Opening Match

Manufacturers County Club Scene of 13½-4½ Victory; McKee Stars

The Colonial golf team began its season auspiciously last Friday by trouncing the Temple squad 13½-4½. Playing over the Manufacturers County Club course which is one of the most difficult in the Philadelphia vicinity, Captain Bill Coleman and his three colleagues emerged victorious in three of the four matches and had best ball in both foursomes. . . .

On Thursday and Friday G. W. linksmen meet North Carolina and Richmond respectively, and the fourth match on the schedule matches George Washington against Delaware, May 19. . . .

Summary of G. W.-Temple match: McKee (G.W.) defeated Boyd 6 and 5, 3 points; Coleman (G.W.) defeated Auerbach 4 and 2, 2½ points; best ball—G. W. 7 and 6; points 3-0. Kniebley (G.W.) defeated Pickett 5 and 4, points 2½-½; Barcliff (Temple) defeated Suter 2 and 1, points 2½-½; best ball, G. W., 4 and 3, points 2 and 1. Final total points: G. W. 13½; Temple 4½. . . .

Colonial Racqueters Meet Pitt, Duquesne

Journey to Smoky City for Difficult Matches on Friday and Saturday

Coach Max Farrington's Colonial tennis squad reaches the peak in its schedule this week when Pittsburgh and Duquesne are met in the Smoky City Friday and Saturday. Seven players and Manager John Busick will make the trip, leaving Washington Thursday at noon. . . .

Although dropping the season's opener to Johns Hopkins in Baltimore on April 15, the G. W. racqueters evened their score by downing St. John's in Annapolis yesterday. The Lafayette tilt listed for last Thursday was rained out. . . .

After College WHAT?

Architecture?

Kenneth Reid, managing editor of the architectural publication, "Pencil Points," writes: "The successful architect needs not only an instinctive feeling for design and a technical skill in construction, but also a complete cultural background. Architecture requires long training, intensive concentration, a keen mind." . . .

IN ARCHITECTURE, certainly, brains rate 100 per cent. . . . intensive concentration, a keen mind. That's why in this business, as in college, a pipe is the favorite smoke. Get out your pipe now, light up, and through the curling blue puffs of Edgeworth, let your mind drift down the road to those years after graduation. . . .

If you're not already an Edgeworth smoker, there's new smoking satisfaction waiting for you. Edgeworth's blend of fine old burleys is distinctive, different. You'll know—after the first puff. Students Return to Classes, Bringing Memories of Happy Easter Holidays Spent in Visiting Interesting Places

Panhellenic Prom Captures Spotlight in Week's Attractions

Back to the grind we go this week, with vagrant thoughts of spring yielding to the necessity of study. Numerous dances last week kept the holiday spirit alive, but now it is a different story.

Professional Group Gives Gay Dance

The Commerce and Economics Fraternity spread its social wings last Saturday night in celebration of its acceptance by Alpha Kappa Psi, venerable national organization, with a dance at the Phi Sigma Kappa house. Jack Morton was in charge of arrangements, and used trick lighting, futuristic decorations and accessories with telling effect.

Dr. Richard N. Owens and Mrs. Owens, and Professor Ralph Kennedy and Mrs. Kennedy were guests of honor at the function, which was pleasingly well attended.

Pi Delta Epsilon, honorary journalistic fraternity, took over Corcoran Hall last Friday evening, providing members and guests with a store of happy numbers and pleasant dancing.

Phi Alpha fraternity, Alpha chapter, held its 18th spring formal last Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights, with dances at the Woodmont Country Club, the chapter house, and the Mayflower Hotel. Sidney's Hotel Mayflower orchestra played for all three affairs. Ruth Molyneux, Dan Beattie, Ralph Kennedy, Leonard Stevens and Joe Danzansky entertained Saturday night with selections from past Troubadour successes.

Theta Delta Chi came through with its spring formal in gracious style at the chapter house last Saturday night. Knapp-Davis melodies tingling in the atmosphere kept the dancers flitting in a rapid succession of varied numbers.

Acacia's chapter house was the scene of a friendly dance attended by members and guests last Saturday night.

Kappa Sigma gave its spring formal at the house Saturday night.

The freshman dance, originally scheduled for last week, has been postponed until May 19. Indian Springs has been selected tentatively as the site of the affair.

Van Vlecks Entertain Faculty Women's Club

Dean and Mrs. William C. Van Vleck were hosts to the Faculty Women's Club on Friday, April 21, at 2:30 o'clock. Prof. and Mrs. DeWitt C. Croissant were the guests of honor. Prof. Croissant, who has recently returned from a trip abroad, was the speaker of the afternoon on the subject, "Sabbatical Notes." Hostesses were: Miss Maude Parker, Mrs. William Hamilton, Mrs. John Hanks, Miss Fay Bentley, and Mrs. Elwood Street.

The following social functions have been authorized for the coming week by the calendar committee of the Student Council:

TUESDAY, APRIL 25
Drama Appreciation Club Plays—Western Presbyterian Church.
FRIDAY, APRIL 28
Panhellenic Prom—The Shoreham.

Liam S. Culbertson as their guest speaker at the assembly tomorrow noon in Corcoran 10. Mrs. Culbertson, who is the wife of the Ambassador to Chile, will speak on "The Life of a Diplomat's Wife."

Sigma Mu Sigma celebrated Founders' Day, April 17, with a banquet held at the Hotel Continental. Harry G. Kimball, a member of Hiram Lodge, and Grand Master of the Masons of the District of Columbia, was the guest speaker of the evening.

Eight members of District of Columbia Alpha of Sigma Phi Epsilon motored to Richmond Saturday to attend the twenty-fifth anniversary banquet in honor of Grand Secretary William L. Phillips.

Pi Theta Xi Is Host To School of Engineering

The faculty members of Phi Theta Xi, professional engineering fraternity at The George Washington University, honored the active members of the fraternity and their guests with a banquet and social entertainment Saturday evening, April 22, at Sholl's banquet room. Fifty-five guests were present. The hosts and hostesses included Dean and Mrs. John R. Lapham, Professor and Mrs. Frank A. Hitchcock, Professor and Mrs. Norman B. Ames, Professor and Mrs. C. C. Crueshanks.

The banquet was followed by bridge and other games. As prizes the ladies received pots of pansies in bloom, and the gentlemen leather-bound desk memorandums. Contributions by the hosts to the evening's entertainment included the addition to the dinner of some of Dean Lapham's self-concocted plum preserves and the disclosure by Professor Ames of an infallible method of contract bridge.

Miss Constance Connor Brown, director of dramatics, gave a tea party at her home on Easter Sunday, April 16. Among those present were Denis and Mrs. Connell, Prof. Harding, and prominent members of Cue and Curtain and Troubadours.

The national president of Phi Alpha, Emanuel Emrasch, attended a dinner dance of the Alpha Chapter held at the Mayflower Hotel, Saturday night. He delivered the address of the evening and presented Joseph Danzansky with the Most Distinguished Undergraduate Award, which is the highest award the national fraternity can give an undergraduate.

Platonia Papps, Dr. Arabolis, and Dr. Mactos were the guests of honor at a name-day party given by George Papanicolas at his home on Farragut street Sunday evening. The party was given in keeping with a custom of celebrating the births of certain of the Greek saints by their namesakes, Sunday being St. Georges day. Elbert Montague furnished delightful music and refreshments were in keeping with the general air of festivity of the occasion.

Members of the Art Appreciation Club of The George Washington University will be entertained by Miss Virginia Kinnard, vice president of the club, at a tea Sunday, April 30, from

Poetry Club Contest Entries Due April 28

Entries in the poetry writing contest must be submitted by Friday, April 28. The contest is being sponsored by the Modern Poetry Club although any student in the University is eligible. Manuscripts should be submitted to Ann Burger, 2020 G street, second floor.

Election of officers will be held at the next meeting of the club on Friday, April 28, at 12:30 in Corcoran 17. Betty Jacobs and Margaret Clark are a committee to buy the gift books for the University library, an annual custom of the Modern Poetry Club.

Dillman Is Chosen Rifle Team Captain

Women Elect Experienced Leader; Manager Applications Due Wednesday

As a result of the G. W. women's rifle team elections on April 20, Virginia Dillman was chosen captain for the coming year.

She began rifle while attending Central, and was a member of the team for three years. While there, she received a major letter. Upon coming to G. W., Virginia made varsity in her first year and has continued her excellent marksmanship so that at present she has three years of varsity experience behind her, and the position of captain ahead.

In accordance with the new system of managerships, adopted by W. A. A., all applications for manager of the women's rifle team must be handed in to Miss Atwell by Wednesday, April 26.

4 to 6, at her home at 2121 New York avenue.

Clara Raynor Rader, national inspector of Phi Mu, will be guest of the local chapter over the coming week end.

Social Groups Elect Officers

Kappa Delta's annual elections were held on April 10. The new officers are: Margaret Liebler, president; Esther Falley, vice president; Elsie Spenny, secretary; Virginia Lee Dillman, treasurer; Mary Cox, assistant treasurer, and Alma Gemeny, editor.

The following were elected to serve as officers of Chi Omega sorority for the coming year: Harriet Atwell, president; Nancy Booth, vice president; Edith Mish, secretary; Janet Young, treasurer; Kathryn Dille, goat mistress.

Phi Alpha Fraternity, Alpha Chapter, elected the following officers for 1933-34 last Wednesday night, April 18: Joseph Danzansky, president; Herbert Sworzen, vice president; Bernard Fagelson, secretary; Everett Gordon, treasurer; Jerry Johnson, sergeant-at-arms, and Milton Blechman, historian.

The Phi Delta Epsilon Medical fraternity announces the formal initiation of Benjamin Manchester and Jack Casan.

Alpha Chapter of Phi Alpha announces the initiation of Sylvan Sappan.

Chi Omega announces the initiation of Dorothy Algire, Frances McNeill, Nance Hall, Catherine Jones, Alicia Mooney, Beatrice Hegg, and Jessie Noller on Wednesday, April 12.

Personals

Panhellenic Prom to be at Shoreham; Will Feature Eddie Poole's Orchestra

Annual Hop Friday Evening Gives Promise of Gay Entertainment

The annual Panhellenic Prom will be given in the main ballroom of the Shoreham Hotel next Friday evening, April 28, from 10 until 2 o'clock.

Music for the affair will be furnished by Eddie Poole and his North Carolina State College Club. The orchestra consists of 15 pieces, including a "torch singer" who promises to add variety to the program. Eddie Poole's band has played for many Southern proms as well as at several prominent resorts in the Carolinas.

The list of patrons and patronesses includes President and Mrs. Cloyd Heck Marvin, Provost and Mrs. William Allen Wilbur, Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Evans, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Albert Barrows, Dean and Mrs. Henry Gratton Doyle, Dean and Mrs. Earl Baldwin McKinley, Dean and Mrs. William Cabell Van Vleck, Dean and Mrs. John Raymond Lapham, Dean and Mrs. William Paul Briggs, Dean and Mrs. William Carl Ruediger.

The following persons have been invited to act as chaperons: Professor and Mrs. Dudley Wilson Willard, Professor and Mrs. Willard Hayes Yeager, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Sewall Shepard, Dr. and Mrs. Lowell Joseph Ragatz,

Congresswomen Will Be Luncheon Guests

Representative Virginia Jenckes, of Indiana, and Representative Kathryn O'Loughlin McCarthy, of Kansas, the two newest women members of Congress, will be guests of honor and speakers at the luncheon to be given by Columbian Women of The George Washington University on Saturday, April 29, at 1:30 o'clock at the Hay-Adams House.

Mrs. Jenckes is a member of a family who for four generations have made Vincennes, Ind., their home. She is the owner of four hundred acres of farmland which she manages herself as a model farm.

Representative McCarthy was a prominent woman member of the legal profession prior to her entrance into politics.

Education Banquet May 13

The second annual banquet of the Women's Education Club is announced for Saturday, May 13, at 6:30 p. m., at the Women's University Club. The Men's Education Club is invited.

Reservations should be made at Miss Coyner's office, Building D.

Luther Club Ends Year With Dinner

Guests, Professors, and Officers of Club Also Address Members

Two years of activity on the campus were climaxed by the Luther Club on Tuesday, April 18, by a banquet at the Kennedy-Warren. It was the organization's first annual function of this kind.

Professor Raymond Seegar, of the physics department, as toastmaster, introduced the speaker of the evening, Dr. H. D. Hayes, who addressed the organization on "The A. B. C.'s of Life." John Albert, president of the club, gave a short talk summarizing its history and aims. John Hagenbuch, recently elected vice president of the North Atlantic Region of Lutheran Student Associations of America, briefly described the activities of the regional and national organizations.

Dean William Allen Wilbur, provost of the University, who was instrumental in the formation of the club, spoke enthusiastically and encouragingly to the group. The Reverend Henry Manken, Jr., president of the Lutheran Inner Mission Society of Washington; Frances Dysinger, secretary and student worker of the society; and the Reverend Howard Snyder, of this city, also spoke briefly.

Social Activities Reviewed "Echoes of the Luther Club," presented by Dorothy Eck, comprised a humorous summary of the social activities, including several original plays, sponsored by the organization. The program also included several vocal selections by Miss Mary Trade, accompanied by Marian Fowler.

Dr. L. M. Zimmerman, of this city, whose illness prevented his attendance at the function as principal speaker, was sent a box of roses, as was Miss Darlene Swanson, a former member, who was also sick.

The Reverend Howard Snyder will lead the discussion groups for the next three weeks on Tuesdays, at 8 p. m., beginning April 25, at Lambie House. These groups are open to all students as well as to any others who may be interested.

Managerships of Women's Sports Announced as Open

Applications for managerships of women's hockey, soccer, basketball, volleyball, tennis, archery, and intramurals must be filed by tomorrow, April 26. They should be sent to Gretchen Feiker, president of W. A. A., or Ruth Atwell, head of the Physical Education Department for Women. All women students are eligible for these positions.

HARRIET ATWELL

Dr. and Mrs. William Crane Johnstone, Dr. and Mrs. Elmer Louis Kayser, Miss Anna Pearl Cooper, Dr. and Mrs. Paul William Bowman, and Mr. Courtland Darke Baker.

The committee in charge of arrangements consists of Harriet Atwell, chairman; Mary Louise Yauch, and Betsy Garrett.

Pan-Hell is just three days away so I have looked about for things to wear.

At Woodward and Lothrop's I saw a crinkle crepe evening gown in marigold yellow with chartreuse flowers and belt buckle, a panel train falling to the hem and, most important of all, a swagger length coat of the same material and color—the whole business for $16.50. I think you'd like chartreuse sandals with it, that is, I think you would. At the same store is a black taffeta gown with top of candy striped mouseline and a mouseline jacket. Rely on its savoir faire to make you look like Joan Crawford—or is it Norma Shearer? Well, take your pick.

Then at Garfinkle's on the sixth floor I saw a plaid taffeta with cartridge plaits on the short sleeves and side, and a corsage of field flowers at the waist—around $20. And another taffeta, brown, yellow and white, in a huge plaid, had a square neck and brown sash. They are both beguilingly jeune fille.

Nearly all the gowns feed our great American fetish, the desire for glamour. Many of them are of organdy, which will be undeniably lovely this summer, or mouseline. A few gowns are made of jacquard chiffon. Mary Louise Parks has already worn a gown of this at the last glee club concert. The emphasis in nearly all of gowns is in the back and is achieved either by ruffles, ruching, or perhaps a train. Prints are very good. And I wish some of you brunettes would steal the blondes' thunder and wear white. If you need convincing, notice Evelyn Eller the next time she appears in white chiffon, if you didn't see her at the Theta Delta dance last Saturday.

Everywhere they are selling taffeta evening wraps, most of them short but a few swagger length. The white pique swagger coats with jeweled buttons will be lovely over your bouffant gowns this summer. You can wear them now if it is warm.

For an occasion as formal as Pan-Hell, or almost any occasion where the men wear white ties, sixteen button length gloves are necessary. These can be bought at Lansburgh's for $2.95. Or you can have gloves made to match your gown for $3 or $4 at Woodward and Lothrop's. And by the same white tie rule, hats are out. Evening bags all look alike. The only way to achieve individuality is to match their color to your gown. With daggerrotype gowns comes daggerrotype jewelry. You might wear bracelets with clear, colored stones mounted in old-fashioned

Intramural Tennis Tourney Reaches Third Lap of Play

Alpha Epsilon Phi Defeats Pi Phi and Phi Delta in Women's Matches

With the playing of the following games the women's intramural tennis tournament progressed another lap with the playing of the second round matches. On Monday, April 17, Alpha Epsilon Phi defeated Pi Beta Phi by scores of 7-5, 4-6, 6-4. Again victorious, the A. E. Phi's won from Phi Delta with scores 6-2, 6-3, on Tuesday, April 18.

The games originally scheduled for Thursday, April 20, postponed because of rain, have been rescheduled for Monday, May 1. They are as follows: Kappa Kappa Gamma vs. Alpha Delta Theta; Alpha Delta Pi vs. Phi Sigma Sigma; Sigma Kappa vs. Zeta Tau Alpha.

The schedule for the remainder of month is: Tuesday, April 25, Chi Omega vs. Alpha Delta Theta; Delta Zeta vs. Phi Sigma Sigma; Phi Delta vs. Pi Beta Phi. Thursday, April 27, Zeta Tau Alpha vs. Alpha Epsilon Phi; Phi Mu vs. Alpha Delta Theta; Sigma Kappa vs. Pi Beta Phi. Friday, April 28, Alpha Delta Pi vs. Kappa Delta; Kappa Kappa Gamma vs. Phi Mu.

The tournament finals will be played off early in May between the various league winners. Ruth Young is in charge of tennis and should be consulted on all questions of schedule and default. The deadline for default notification is 10 o'clock on game day. All games are scheduled for 1 p. m. on the Seventeenth street courts.

The horseshoe tournament sponsored by the Intramural board has been postponed due to bad weather and complications regarding the use of the courts. The leagues have been decided upon but the schedule has not been announced as yet. Caroline Becker is managing this tournament.

gilt, one halfway up each arm. Or to get away from rhinestones, wear pearls in quaint mountings. At Woodward and Lothrop's are French enamelled compacts from $3 up, which are delightful for evening use.

These are some of the things I saw, but look around for yourselves and see what you can find to snare 'em with. There'll be no wallflowers in the old town that night.

Prizes to Be Given In Drama Contest

Cue and Curtain Offers Free Tickets to Writers of Best Limericks

Here's your chance to win two $7.75 tickets, absolutely free, to the Cue and Curtain's spring production, "The Romantic Young Lady," which will be presented at Wardman Park Theatre on May 10, 11, and 12.

There is little actual work entailed.... just the use of a bit of ingenuity and a few well-chosen words.... and the prize is yours! At the end of this story you will find a four-line limerick with the last line left blank. All that is necessary to win one of the two pairs of pasteboards, offered as prizes, is to cut out this limerick; complete the rhyme by adding the fifth line; mail to Gordon V. Potter, care of The University Hatchet, George Washington University, Washington, D. C.

Everyone is eligible to compete, except the two judges, and members of Cue and Curtain.

Everybody should try this contest.... it's easy.... it's fun.... and it may prove profitable!

Remember you have to submit both limericks.... completed. The second will appear in next week's issue of The Hatchet, and here's the first:

(The last line must rhyme with the first and must have the same number of metric feet.)

BITTER FIGHTS WAGE FOR COUNCIL SEATS

swear they'll get one now or die in the attempt.

Further removed from the limelight, but nevertheless important are Karl Gay, Cue and Curtain business manager, and Loren Murray. The latter's reelection, looks doubtful.

Last Minute Entry
Bourke Floyd presented himself on the Junior College battleground as a last-minute entry. Whether or not he is sufficiently strong to win a post is problematical.

In Columbian College, a silent fight is raging. Joseph Danzansky, junior class president, apparently is dominating a sufficient number of votes to assure him one of the two Columbian seats. Danzansky, when questioned as to his opinion of complete reorganization in contrast to that proposed by the Billings' Bill, said, "I agree with the principles of reorganization as outlined in the April 4 issue of The Hatchet." As manager of varsity baseball, Danzansky's attitude can be said to reflect that of the athletic activities so far as reorganization is concerned.

The other Columbian College seat remains for the victor of the three-way fight between Links, second Kappa entry; Clara Critchfield, Speakers' Congress leader, and Helen Mitchell, A. D. Pi. With the Kappa alliances as strong as they are, Links should win. Critchfield will be no easy opponent, however, with Sigma Kappa and Speakers' Congress supporting her strongly.

Law School Is "Toss-Up"
With five candidates battling for the two Law School seats, the fur will scatter far and wide. It will be a matter of which factions will cooperate to get the strongest combination. At the time of writing, it seemed to be an evenly distributed field that presented itself for election.

Edith Grosvenor, Education representative up for reelection, was waging a heady fight against Mary Lee Watkins until her activities were halted by a sudden attack of ptomaine poisoning. Watkins is backing Grosvenor's position sufficiently to permit Helen Hughes, who is supported by the football players, to slip by while the Grosvenor-Watkins feud goes on.

In the School of Government, Margaret Liebler and Fred Stevenson are struggling for supremacy. Here politics are uppermost in every one's mind, and the candidates are using every political ruse at their disposal to gain the coveted seat. Liebler was leading by a shade until last week.

Mary Yauch, who withdrew from the field, has thrown her support with Liebler, which sends the latter's stock up considerably. Robert Savage, senior class council representative, has been enlisted with the Liebler forces, thereby assuring the tall candidate the government seat.

Stevenson's last minute swing into the reorganization ranks apparently was a move to garner some choice votes from the Liebler-Savage party, but apparently the move comes too late to be effective.

Mary Perrin is head man in the Library Science political ring. Her position was warmly contested by both Harriet Atwell and Virginia Hawkins until they both withdrew. The only other entry remaining was E. G. Bielous, and her faction was too weak to do much damage to the Perrin forces unless the Hawkins-Atwell group effected a coup d'etat, backing Bielous to down Perrin. With this interesting situation failing to develop, Perrin goes to the polls uncontested.

K. Emmart, School of Pharmacy, is the sure winner of his entire field, being the lone druggist entry. The Medics are too busy with Gray, Howell, Williams, and Oeler to bother with the would-be Borahs and Huey Longs, so it seems they will have an uncontested representation on next year's council in the person of James Dueschbeck.

Alfaro Says World Peace Is Advancing

Despite seeming distress and discouragement in international life today, peace and brotherhood among the nations of the world is being steadily advanced through the instrumentality of international laws. This was the conviction expressed by Dr. Ricardo J. Alfaro, Minister of Panama, in an address delivered at the George Washington University upon the occasion of the University's annual Pan American Day Assembly.

Dr. Alfaro was introduced by Dr. Leo S. Rowe, director general of the Pan American Union, as a "Statesman, former chief executive of his own country, jurist, and leader in the Pan American movement."

Dr. William Allen Wilbur, provost of the University, presided at the exercises.

Columbian Swatters Beat Druggist, 13-2

In a game played yesterday afternoon on the Ellipse, Columbia College defeated the Pharmacy School, 13 to 2.

Fischer, pitching for Columbian College, permitted eight hits; Bray and Herbert, hurling for the losers, allowed fourteen hits. Fischer was credited with seven strike-outs; Bray and Herbert together, eight, Johnson obtaining three consecutive strike-outs in the eighth inning.

A triple by McEntee and the stellar fielding of Bradford stood out on the Columbian Club; Nathanson and Butler playing well for the losers.

Engineering School Triumphs Over Pre-Med Nine, 6-3

Making the most of their scoring opportunities, the Engineers won their second straight intramural contest by defeating the Pre-Medical School nine by a score of 6-3.

Although Hetzel of the Engineers gave up six hits and a walk, one less than Simon, and struck out but seven of the twelve whiffs for the Pre-Med twirler, he was superior in the pinches; seven Pre-Medics were left stranded on the bases.

plished work in rehearsal, to date. However, Doris Thomas, as Rosario, "The Romantic Young Lady," playing opposite Gunnison, comes close to maintaining the high standard of character delineation set by Royal. Their scenes, together, are a delight, even in their present incomplete form.

Betty Rice and Margaret Gilligan are pairing up in fine fashion in their respective roles of "grandma" Dona Barbarita and her maid, Marie Pepe. These characters are both of middle age and their lines are tinged with witticisms. Betty and Margaret are taking full advantage of these and many other of the enchanting histrionic possibilities offered in these rich roles.

Popular Coeds to Be Introduced
A particular attractive feature of the last night's (Friday, May 12) performance will be the introduction, between acts, of the contestants for the title of "First Lady of the University" by Dean Wilbur. According to Floyd Sparks, the Junior Class will have a voting booth in the lobby, where students may cast their ballots for whom they think the most popular young coed.

To give the rest of the cast due credit for their work, it is only fair to explain Royal Gunnison's superlative acting ability. In the far west he played with the University of Washington players for a season and spent a season with the Seattle Repertory Theatre. He played in a stock company at the North Shore Circuit Theatre in Chicago for a winter, following this work with associating himself with the Ravinia Players of the same city. According to Gunnison, the 13-week vaudeville tour of the Pacific Coast wheel as part of a Fanchon and Marco production is his outstanding theatrical achievement.

In Washington he had a part in the Drama Guild production of "Olympia." He was associated with the Northern Dramatic Company in presentations over WOL, and has also played in mystery dramas through the medium of WRC.

Heads Spanish Club

For the fourth consecutive time, Raymond J. Mealy has been elected president of El Club Espanol. First chosen in 1929 when Senorita Ahumada, professor of Spanish and faculty advisor, reorganized the club, Mr. Mealy served in the same capacity in 1930, '31 and '32.

Members insist that the success of the club is no less due to his executive ability than to his perseverance and loyalty. From a small group of Spanish students, the organization has grown until it is recognized by the whole University as well as representatives of the Spanish-speaking countries in the city.

Following an address in Spanish by Senor Roberto Meledaz, charge d'affaires San Salvador on International Relations last Thursday evening, a bridge party climaxed an active year for the Club.

club entertained the students of Howard University with a group of specially selected songs.

Both clubs appeared on Wednesday evening at the two evening shows at the Fox theatre and gave Rubenstein's "Kamenoi Ostrow," their feature number of last year's presentation at this same theatre. This number is sung in an exclusive arrangement for the George Washington University Glee Clubs, and is one of their most beautiful selections, both in execution and in music.

The Missouri State Society heard the clubs sing a group of twelve numbers on Thursday evening at the annual spring ball of that organization, held at the Washington Hotel.

Sunday evening, the clubs sang at the special vesper services at the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church, given in honor of the visiting daughters of the American Revolution delegates.

Nine Teams Still Remain in Debate After First Round

Half of Fraternity and Sorority Teams Eliminated in Debate Contest

Intramural debates, sponsored annually by Delta Sigma Rho, got off to a flying start last Thursday evening in Corcoran and Stockton with heated results. Men's teams brought about a see-saw result, with equal distribution between affirmative and negative winners. The feminine orators produced a decided lean toward the affirmative, with only one negative team declared winner.

Results of the evening's bombardment were:

Fraternities:

Phi Sigma Kappa (affirmative) defeated Tau Alpha Omega (negative).
Theta Delta Chi (negative) defeated Sigma Alpha Epsilon (affirmative).
Phi Alpha (negative) defeated Kappa Alpha (affirmative).

Acacia (negative) won by default from Tau Epsilon Phi (affirmative).
Theta Upsilon Omega (affirmative) won by default from Sigma Chi (negative).

Acacia and Theta Upsilon Omega ran off the debate which they would have had in the second round. Acacia was adjudged winner.

Sorority Results

Kappa Delta (affirmative) defeated Alpha Delta Theta (negative).
Zeta Tau Alpha (affirmative) defeated Phi Mu (negative).

Phi Sigma Sigma (negative) defeated Phi Delta (affirmative).

Sigma Kappa (affirmative) defeated Alpha Delta Pi (negative).

Kappa Kappa Gamma (affirmative) defeated Pi Beta Phi (negative).

Judges for the first round of debates were: Dr. Christopher Garnett, Professor J. A. McIntire, Professor W. Hayes Yeager, Dr. Warren R. West, Miss Martha Gibbon, Professor H. G. Roberts, Dr. John Donaldson, Mrs. W. Hayes Yeager, Dean Henry Grattan Doyle, and Mr. John W. Brandt.

In the second round of debates, to be held on Tuesday, April 25, at 8:15 p. m. in Corcoran Hall, the following schedule will hold:

Fraternity Schedule

Phi Sigma Kappa (affirmative) vs. Theta Delta Chi (negative).

Kappa Sigma (affirmative) vs. Phi Alpha (negative).

Acacia will not debate in this round, but will meet one of the winning teams in this group at the semi-finals.

Sorority Schedule

Zeta Tau Alpha (affirmative) vs. Kappa Kappa Gamma (negative).

Delta Zeta (affirmative) vs. Kappa Delta (negative).

Sigma Kappa (affirmative) vs. Phi Sigma Sigma (negative).

All team participants are to report to room 15, Corcoran, promptly at 8:15. Everyone interested, both student and faculty, are urged to attend.

Doyle Presides At Pan-American Meet

Leads Discussion on American Culture at Pan American League

Dr. Henry Grattan Doyle, dean of the Junior College, presided over the morning session of the annual meeting of the Pan American League, held April 17, at the Miami Biltmore Country Club, Coral Gables, Fla.

"Cultural Understandings and Misunderstandings between the Americas," was the topic of the discussion, introduced by Dean Doyle.

This was the fourth meeting of the league, which was founded by representatives of the Latin American countries, Cuba, and the United States, early in 1930. The purpose of the league is to further the friendly contacts already existing between those nations, to ally more intimately the interests of women and children of the Americas, and to foster an all-American spirit.

Mrs. Barrows Foils Thief; Gives Chase

An unknown colored youth attempted to steal a suitcase from the car of Mrs. Vinnie G. Barrows, director of women's personnel guidance, last Thursday, but failed to escape with the loot. He was not caught, however, despite a vigorous pursuit.

Shortly after Mrs. Barrows had parked her automobile across from Lambie House, she saw the boy walk down the street with a suitcase in hand. Recognizing it was her own, she set out in pursuit.

James LeRoy, a janitor, followed Mrs. Barrows and as they passed the G street firehouse, a fireman's aid was enlisted. The thief continued walking rapidly towards the gas house district, as the three pursuers kept on his heels.

A tobacco truck driver, who was going by, saw the culprit and joined in the chase. With Mrs. Barrows on the truck, and the fireman characteristically hanging on with one hand, they finally managed to come up with the boy at Twentieth street and New York avenue. Seeing that escape with the suitcase was impossible, he dropped it and fled. Though an attempt was made to catch him, the lad was not captured.

The retrieved suitcase belonged to a daughter of Mrs. Barrows, who is attending Cornell University and contained some of her clothes.

Herbert Olsen Dies After Long Illness

Herbert H. Olsen, Jr., 23, for three years a student here at the University, died at his residence, 6517 Eighth street, Friday, April 14 after a long illness.

Olsen registered for pre-legal work in September 1929 and for three years attended night school. He was taken ill last October shortly after he had registered in the University.

Born in Washington, graduated from Central High School in February 1929 as president of his class, Olsen came to George Washington following his appointment to a position in the Department of Justice. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert H. Olsen and a brother Arthur.

Students Invited To Art Forum Shows

The International Art Forum has extended invitations to George Washington University students to attend its next two presentations at the Carlton Hotel on Sunday, April 30, and Sunday, May 7, respectively. Both performances will be at 4 p. m.

Remo Bolognini, Argentine violinist, will appear with the New York Philharmonic Symphony in its concert on April 30. On May 7, the Art Forum will present Levina Darve, lyric soprano, and the ballet masters Maria Yurieva, and Vecheslav Swoboda.

ing the initiation included Miss Brown, Sylvia Shore, who was the star comedienne in "The Desert Song" when it appeared at the Fox Theater the week of April 11; Mrs. Vinnie G. Barrows, director of women's personnel guidance; Dennis Connell, coach of Troubadours, and a well-known figure in Washington dramatic circles; Professor Harold Harding, newly-appointed faculty advisor for Troubadours; Miss Martha Gibbon, of the English department; and Pauline Schaub.

During the banquet, the Troubadour trio, comprising Margaret Gilligan, Annabelle McCullough, and Grace Giffen, sang several selections; Joseph Danzansky reenacted some humorous sketches from past Troubadour hits; Dan Beattie played a medley of his numbers; and Sylvia Shore entertained with a delightful novelty dance.

Five Trophies Await Intramural Winners

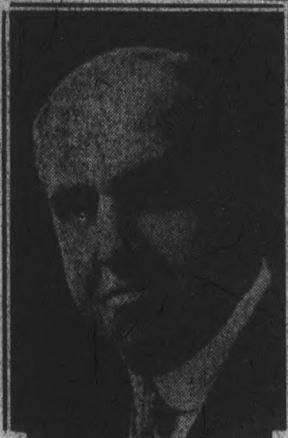

Five trophies await the winners in the golf, tennis, and horseshoes intramural matches that began yesterday. Nineteen golfers, 55 racketeers, exclusive of participants in 19 sets of doubles, and 70 horseshoe pitchers started on the long grind of elimination for the respective championships.

Golf run-offs are being matched over the West Potomac and the Rock Creek Park courses. Tennis eliminations are being staged on the Monument courts, while horseshoe matches are being pitched on the vacant lot between the Art College and the Lambie House. Pairings are posted on the gym bulletin board.

Coach Jean Sexton stated that the time of termination of the final rounds would depend upon the rapidity of elimination, but they were expected to continue for probably four weeks. The first round ends Saturday.

Last year's winners were: Craig McKee, golf; Clyde Smith, tennis; and Boyd Hickman, horseshoes.

Fesler Says Faith Is University Need

Editor Points Out Advantages of Proposed Group of Activity Leaders

"The largest problem facing this University today is that of building up faith," stated C. Manley Fesler in an address before the Liberal Club April 12, in which he explained the reorganization plan for the Student Council. He pointed out that the establishment of faith is up to the governing student body, who up to the present time has fallen down in this respect.

Fesler outlined the present system of representation on the Council, in which members are elected from the various divisions of the University. He explained that the divisions in themselves are stagnant, the Medical School excepted, and have little interest or spirit of unity. It is not these groups of the University that are the active bodies on the campus. Under the proposed plan, this factor would be covered by having one member elected from a board which represents related organizations. In addition to these members from the various activities, there would be one person elected from each of the four classes. This proposed council would be comprised of a group of students who are actively interested in the University, and who understand the problems facing the student body.

In regard to the establishment of this new plan, Fesler pointed out that sufficient time is left in this year. All the boards representing the various activities can elect a member within a day's notice, so the new system only waits action from the Student Council.

TURKISH TOBACCO
comes to this country in bales.
The leaves are small and tightly packed. Each bale contains about 40,000 leaves.

DOMESTIC TOBACCO is stored in huge wooden hogheads. Each hoghead contains about 1000 pounds of tobacco.

A flavor that neither possesses alone

Early in the 17th century, tobacco seed from America was taken to Turkey. Different soil, different climate, different temperatures night and day, and different farming methods produced an entirely new tobacco—small in size, but very rich and aromatic.

Four certain spots are famous for the quality of their Turkish tobacco—Xanthi and Cavalla in Greece; Samsoun and Smyrna in Turkey. And it is principally from these places that our buyers get the Turkish for Chesterfield.

These Turkish tobaccos are blended, in just the right amount, with Domestic tobaccos. It is this blending and cross-blending of just the right amount of Turkish and Domestic tobaccos which gives Chesterfield a flavor that neither possesses alone.

Chesterfield *the cigarette that's Milder
the cigarette that Tastes Better*
